

Sustainability Intern, Affirmative Investment Management

6-month paid full-time contract, with possibility of extension

Starting January 2023

Affirmative Investment Management (AIM) is a dedicated impact bond asset management company. All our portfolios support the Sustainable Development Goals and the global Paris Agreement on climate change. AIM is a small-sized company with a global presence in the UK, Japan and Australia. We are a signatory of the Net Zero Asset Mangers initiative.

The Sustainability team is responsible for verifying impact bonds, primarily use of proceeds green, social and sustainability bonds, from a sustainability perspective and evidencing the impact of our portfolios through impact reporting.

We are looking for an intern to support the Sustainability team across all areas. The intern will have a core focus on supporting our impact reporting through impact data collection but also have opportunity to participate in our sustainability verification research and helping to develop new sustainability strategies and products.

AIM offers flexible working; however, we encourage interns to be predominantly in the London office throughout the fixed-term contract for training.

We are looking for an enthusiastic individual who is keen to specialize in ESG and/or sustainable investment. Familiarity with climate themes and use of proceeds bonds will be prioritized.

We will consider applications on a rolling basis until the intern openings are filled. Therefore, early application is encouraged.
